

Ferd Van Mourick, manager of the Sonora News Company's local and business interests in the state of Sonora, and city-councilman-elect, is down in Sonora and Sinaloa on company business, having departed for the south last Saturday, in response to telegraphic instructions from the City of Mexico, where the headquarters of the big company are located.