

The advertisement features a central illustration of a board game. The board is a square with a black and white checkerboard pattern. It is surrounded by a decorative border. Above the board, the words "YAQUI TROUBLES" are written in a stylized font. Below the board, the words "YAQUI TROUBLES" are written in a similar font. The board itself has several small circles with an 'X' inside, placed on specific squares. The entire illustration is framed by a double-line border.

People say they have never played a more interesting game than

Yaqui Troubles.

For sale at Sonora News Company, Nogales, Arizona.